

Best value destinations for 2016

by Tom Hall · Oct 27 2015

Bagging a good deal on the road can be almost as thrilling as the trip itself, no matter what your travel budget.

Make your hard-earned cash go further with our essential annual hot-list of where to go for wallet-friendly wandering, whether you're hunting for a bargain or in search of old-school cheapness. Splurgers, look elsewhere.

...

Number 5: Bosnia and Herzegovina

The iconic Stari Most (Old Bridge) in the city of Mostar in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Image by Matej Divizna / Getty Image News / Getty

All it takes to make Europe's big hitters feel very pricey is for a few currency fluctuations to work against you. Thankfully there are still a few places where regardless of where you come from you'll feel like you're getting a good deal. Bosnia and Herzegovina is one of those. Inexpensive accommodation, meals and intercity transport combined with historic cities (Sarajevo and Mostar) and affordable adrenaline pursuits (rafting on the Una River and skiing) reward both the impecunious and those seeking a less well-travelled Europe.

For full article and list of destinations visit: <http://www.lonelyplanet.com/travel-tips-and-articles/best-value-destinations-for-2016>